EXHIBIT A

Scope of Services

McCaulley&Company will provide the City of Lakewood the following public relations services for the Initiative:

Content Creation

McCaulley&Company will create content for the City of Lakewood for social media and traditional news media, as further outlined below, for immediate, already-identified stories. McCaulley&Company applies the PESO (i.e., Paid, Earned, Shared, and Owned media) structure to guide and integrate its communications services. McCaulley&Company will provide the City of Lakewood support with uncovering opportunities within these four categories of media to help the City increase and improve its stature and communication efforts.

Content Management

McCaulley&Company will work with the City of Lakewood to create and manage a steady and engaging stream of customized original content and relevant external content.

Content Calendar

McCaulley&Company will provide the City of Lakewood support in creating a content calendar to plan and organize upcoming content, and will assist with pursuing stories and images for social media posts utilizing the City of Lakewood's current social media channels.

Channels

McCaulley&Company will manage the City of Lakewood's existing media channels and monitor for new entrants to engage specific populations, as appropriate to demographic data. Channels like Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram are already known to the community as sources for City content. McCaulley&Company would look to leverage these existing channels and their target demographics while complementing with new channels to expand the reception of stories and messages the City seeks to distribute.

Tools

McCaulley&Company will coordinate with the City of Lakewood to use tools it has already engaged. McCaulley&Company would also recommend platforms for content creation and management, such as Hootsuite, Buffer, and MeetEdgar. With the use of these tools, the City of Lakewood would increase its positive social media updates regarding its projects and programs. Additionally, the City would increase and improve awareness of the City of Lakewood as a leading community in Northeast Ohio with a dedicated and innovative local government that is attuned to the needs of its residents.

Media Relations

McCaulley&Company will provide the City of Lakewood support with traditional local news outlets by providing them with frequent and fully-developed news stories. These stories will be developed by McCaulley&Company in collaboration with the City of Lakewood's department directors. These positive news stories appearing in print, television, and radio would increase and improve the City's influence on local leading news outlets. Similarly, a "push" strategy of media coverage will increase and improve awareness of the City of Lakewood as a leading community in Northeast Ohio with a dedicated and innovative local government that is attuned to the needs of its residents.

Work Plan

McCaulley&Company will partner with the City of Lakewood to increase, improve, and accelerate positive coverage of the City's work and assets. The two organizations will accomplish this together in the following fashion:

- McCaulley&Company reviews the City of Lakewood's current public relations strategy including content shared through social media channels and traditional news media outlets
- McCaulley&Company meets with City of Lakewood department directors to discuss current and upcoming noteworthy content opportunities (bi-weekly)
- McCaulley&Company distills a flexible, 60-day content calendar (monthly)
- City of Lakewood reviews and confirms the prioritized list (as-needed)
- McCaulley&Company links the content calendar with appropriate social media channels through automated content planning tools, e.g., Hootsuite, Buffer, MeetEdgar (bi-weekly)
- McCaulley&Company engages department directors to share stories beyond the bi-weekly meetings
- McCaulley&Company coordinates with the Mayor's office to pass along appropriate stories, events, and announcements with traditional news media outlets (daily)

To support this public relations strategy, McCaulley&Company will schedule regular meetings with department directors and the Mayor's office. This Initiative will elevate the stature of the City of Lakewood to a leading voice on topics relevant to both the City of Lakewood community and Greater Cleveland. These meetings will occur bi-weekly, at minimum, and the regularity of appearing and updating McCaulley&Company to assist in content creation will produce a trusting relationship for sharing newsworthy stories.

Outcomes

McCaulley&Company defines the work we do for our clients in terms of “More/Better/Faster”. No matter how our clients define success, we support their missions and operations through increases in quantity, improvements in quality, or acceleration in rate for their desired outcomes.

McCaulley&Company will increase and improve awareness and recognition of the City of Lakewood’s everyday successes in addition to the City’s strengths, goals, activities, and accomplishments. This will include a combination of earned news coverage, owned website and social media content, shared content from appropriate sources, and paid advertising, where appropriate. This Initiative will lead to the following outcomes:

- More: The Initiative will lead to more positive coverage and visibility through social media and news media of relevant stories that are currently going unnoticed.
- Better: The Initiative will lead to better content creation and improved community awareness of their local government at work. The Initiative will also lead to better relationships with local news media outlets.
- Faster: The Initiative will lead to faster community awareness of positive developments and to faster response and remediation of crisis situations in the community.
